Wyoming.com Announces New Website

Wyoming.com is inviting visitors to explore its new website. The new website has been designed to provide the ultimate user-friendly experience with improved navigation and functionality throughout, allowing visitors to access detailed service and product information.

Riverton, WY (July 15, 2013) – The Wyoming-based Internet, phone, and network service provider announced today that it has launched its new and improved website. The site includes extensive product information to help visitors and customers understand Wyoming.com's complete range of services and products. General service/product benefits and technical data work together to provide a detailed overview of Wyoming.com's capabilities across a wide range of sectors, including small office, retail, enterprise business and government, as well as Wyoming's consumers.

Created with the user experience firmly in mind, the website has been designed using the latest technology so the site is compatible with today's browsers. Another vital component to the new website in terms of user experience is the expanded Customer Portal section for the Company's current customers. "It was really important for us to present an easier web tool for our customers to communicate with us", explained Chris Robisch, Director of Sales and Marketing. "There are several items that our customers really want and need incorporated into our website."

The new website means that visitors and customers can now benefit from richer online content that is easier to navigate. On the Wyoming.com website, visitors can also stay informed with the latest news of the Company, events, and service or product enhancements.

Wyoming.com is the largest independent ISP in Wyoming, with thousands of business and residential customers across the state. The company currently provides Voice (WyoPhone), Data, and Internet services on its own EtherLink and other high-capacity connections, DSL, wireless, and dial-up access. The cornerstone of the company's operational philosophy is to provide customers, large and small, with unique, stable, highly individualized products and services. This philosophy has led to Wyoming.com emerging as the premier service provider in Wyoming. As Wyoming's leading Internet service pioneer, it began providing service in Riverton, Wyoming in 1994.
